

The only information we are able to provide about used instruments is the year each was made, as listed below. There is no way to know the history or condition of a used guitar (it could be neglected, abused, or modified without being outwardly obvious). If you want to be confident in your Pedulla bass purchase, buy direct from us. Buying a new bass allows you to keep it properly cared for and maintained from the start, and you will always know the complete history of it. With proper care, a new Pedulla bass can last a lifetime. Click here to see if we have any used/demo basses available.

Find the year your bass was made by the Serial Number
(Serial number is imprinted on the back of the headstock).
